

PERSONAL SUMMARY – SULTAN SHALAKHTI

A digital creative with over 7 years of award-winning international experience in web, UI and UX design, product development, creative problem solving, strategic thinking and online brand building.

With a passion for all things digital, I offer a diverse set of expertise with hands-on experience necessary to excel in today's global economy. Over the course of my career, I have worked for and within a variety of industry sectors worldwide such as Information Technology, E-commerce/Online Retail, Automotive, Travel, Telecommunication, Media, Real Estate and Education. I specialize in conceiving and delivering end-to-end innovative solutions with tangible results.

Apart from devising and designing engaging user experiences, I also pride myself for setting up and leading in-house design teams, hiring and mentoring talent, and streamlining business processes for optimal productivity. Having professionally raised in start-up culture and being part of the digital revolution right from it's infancy, I have the ability to challenge status quo to drive change. I'm ambitious for great work and eager to make a difference by being fully aware of creative challenges, technical constraints and cross-media concerns.

Besides, I am an artist, laidback adventurer, somewhat gadget freak and a good boxer. I also ran a creative and inspiration blog called dubacreative.com - dedicated to design and business and everything in-between.
